Eddy Sveum pleases the alumni with a run for big yardage before a capacity

Jimmy Corley puts through his twenty-fifth and last field goal as a Catamount against Wofford. "Sugar Foot" also booted 112 extra points and became WCU's second all-time scorer with 187 career points.

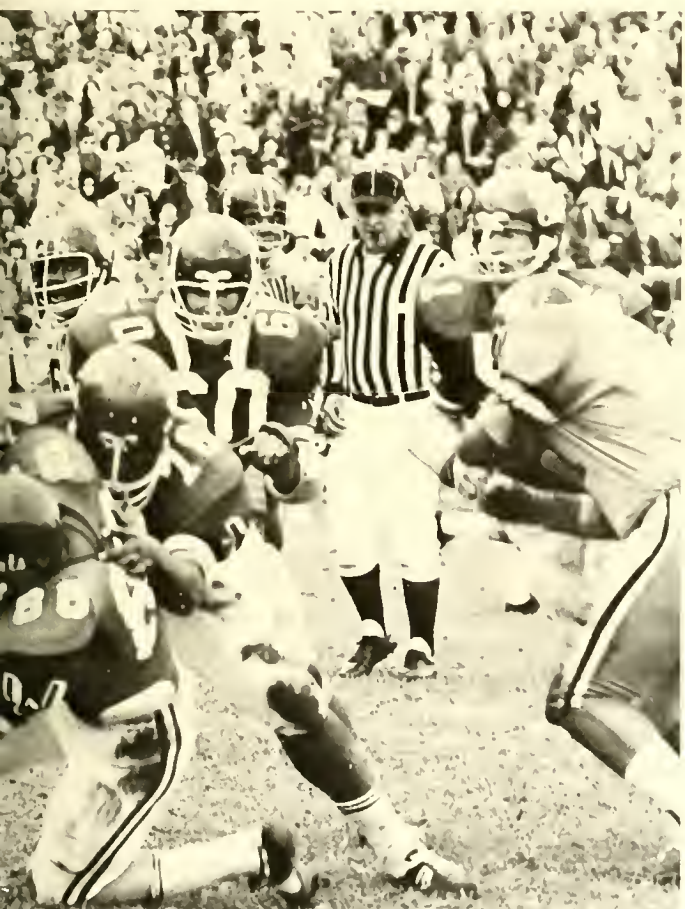

The Catamounts' defensive line, a bright spot all season, gangs up on a West Jim Dougherty (87), Les Herrin (86), Steve Williams (78) and Mike Cater (60) crowd at homecoming.

For the first fifteen minutes of the 1971 football season, it would have been difficult to find a team with more offensive explosiveness than the Western Carolina Catamounts.

It took the "curious Cats" only a dozen plays to score two touchdowns and a field goal, and hold a 15-0 first quarter lead over Murray State University.

At that point, the sky opened up and the torrential rain that fell in Asheville's Memorial Stadium apparently dampened the Catamounts' explosive pow(d)er for that particular afternoon as they lost 32-22, and seemingly for the remainder of the season, except for an occasional bomb.

That fizzling offense was the accused in a 4-6 season verdict.

However, when the Cats did put it together, the results were devastating as witnessed in the 26-0 rout of uppity sister Appalachian State, the 39-0 bombing of Mississippi College, and the free-wheeling 41-19 homecoming celebration of West Virginia State's demise, and an upset finale, 31-13, of Wofford.

The autumn did bring rewards for several individual Catamounts. Otis McIntosh joined an elite class as he ended his four year career with over 3,000 yards rushing and 37 touchdowns. Steve Williams is headed for the pros after being named to the Associated Press and NAIA All-America defensive first teams . . . the first Catamount to achieve such high honors since 1949. Premier defensive end Jim Dougherty also ended a great collegiate career and signed with the Dallas Cowboys.

The linebackers also got in on the action as Joe Hunter sets up one for another Steve Williams kill.

Dr. Charles Schrader's squad, dubbed "Schrader's Raiders", won six of seven games before running into area kingpin Erskine College.

WCU lost four starters off the '70 squad but an impressive group of newcomers in addition to a solid group of newcomers the soccer team kicked their way to a 7-2-2 record.

Patrick Cheung and Mike Michner became the first WCU soccer players to achieve post season honors as both were named to the coveted all-South squad . . . Patrick to the third team and Mike, the fifth.

Patrick Cheung displays his all-South talents as he turns the Cats from defense to offense with a head return . . .

and heads for the goal in big win over Rollins College.

He then gains control of the loose ball . . .

The story of the 1971-72 basketball season at Western Carolina University would be an ideal script for a TV pilot called "The Unexpected."

The unexpected made both positive and negative appearances from pre-season practice through the district playoffs.

First there was the unexpected loss of forwards Tim Swain, with a back injury, and Gus Dillahunt, with hepatitis, before the season began. After only five games, Glymph Childress was declared ineligible.

With those personnel losses, the Cats struggled through the holiday schedule.

In January, the pendulum suddenly swung in the other direction as the Cats reeled off seven straight wins behind the play of Howard Winston, Rick Campbell, Clay Ward and freshman Albert Toomer.

With the addition of two-time All-America pivotman David Smith, a transfer from Guilford, February appeared to be a great month for WCU basketball with the district championship and a trip to Kansas City easily within reach.

However, the Catamounts never seemed to "put it together" as Smith could not find a place in the puzzle. Suddenly, Smith was suspended after an altercation with an official and the Cats' basketball went flat.

Somehow, Coach Jim Hartbarger got his team together again, and behind the play of Winston, Larry Grant, Rod Snyder and Wilson Scott, surprised everyone by winning the NAIA District 6 Tournament Championship in Greenville and earned a trip to Kansas City — the first WCU team to do so in nine years.

— NAIA National Championship Tournament

Captain Larry Grant again engineered the Cats' offense with his pinpoint passing, quick drives to the basket and fine defensive play.

Wilson Scott, the man who seems to always excite WCU fans, never played up to his pre-injury form of 1971, but he did manage to keep many games alive with his long jumpers from the corners and sky-scraping taps.

CATAMENTS

Press Row — they tell you what you saw.

Rod Snyder, the Cats only senior, leads a late season surge that pushes the Cats to the district championship.

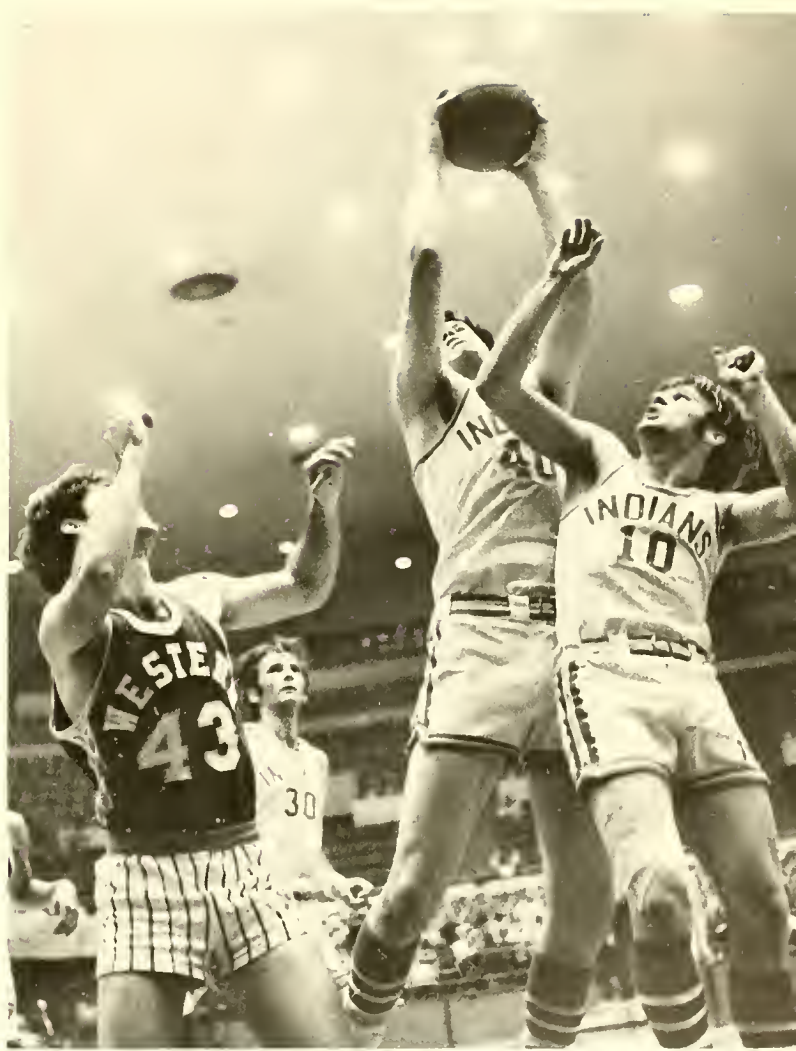

Freshman Henry Finch made his presence known with his competitive spirit and strong rebounding.

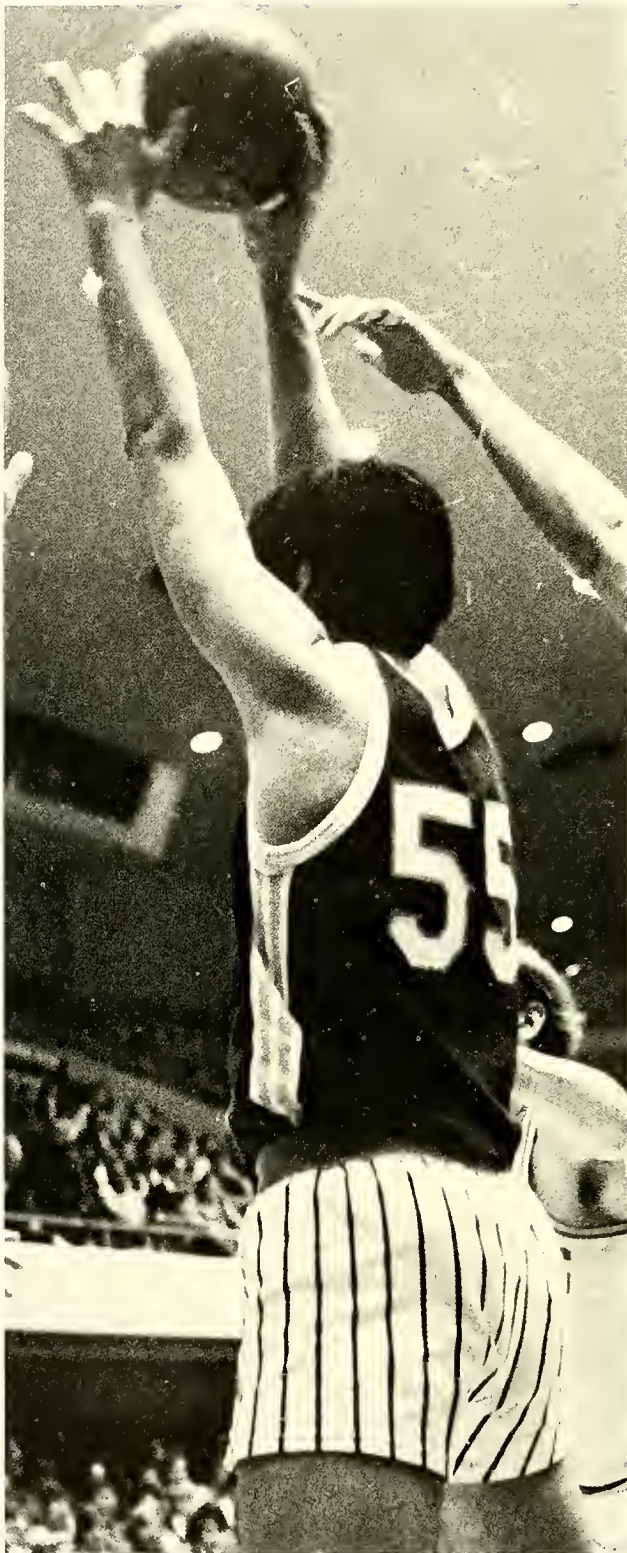

The play of Rick Campbell typified the Catamounts up and down season. When the 6'7" forward was hot, the Cats were winners.

Junior forward Clay Ward (#43) came off the bench frequently to spur the Cats with his accurate shooting and outstanding defense.

6'10" pivotman Joe Wolfe had several outstanding games, including a 25 point, 16 rebound performance.

Freshman Albert Toomer displayed signs of future greatness with his exciting moves and long range shooting.

Cross Country

1971 was another banner year for WCU cross country and that is beginning to sound like a stuck record with a new date dubbed in each year.

The Cats' distance runners won their fifth straight NAIA District 6 championship, remained unbeaten in dual competition against NAIA schools, and placed fifth at the NAIA National championship meet.

Sophomore Ben Bailey became Western Carolina's first cross country All-American when he finished fifth at the national meet.

Senior Terry Helms turned in his second outstanding performance at the Nationals by finishing twenty-second in a field of over 300 runners.

Track And Field

The Western Carolina track and field squad brought more attention to Western Carolina University during the past year than any athletic team in the University's history.

Although the squad scored well in all meets during the season and won its fourth straight NAIA District 6 championship, it was the performances of two individuals that caught the eyes of track and field watchers throughout the South.

Sophomores Ben Bailey and Jerry Gaines, both with Olympic Game aspirations, made the sports pages consistently with their winning efforts.

Bailey came closer to becoming the first WCU athlete to break the four minute barrier with a 4:03.2 clocking in the mile run. He was unbeaten in the mile run in the regular outdoor season and was the indoor champ at the Southeastern Conference meet last winter.

Gaines, also a stellar performer on the football field, triple jumped to the top of the NAIA standings and was second ranked in the long jump despite an injury marred season.

The heroics of the "super sophs" overshadowed other outstanding performances such as Clarence Thomas' :09.6 in the 100 and :21.4 in the 220; the consistent sprint efforts of Roy Bryan; the distance running of Steve Fleming and Terry Helms.

Baseball

Tennis

It was a rebuilding year for the WCU tennis squad and the schedule did not help matters.

Coach Herb Bolick lost his outstanding No. 1 singles player off last season's 8-8 squad, and then at the end of winter quarter learned that two more of his top performers would also be missing because of academic ineligibility.

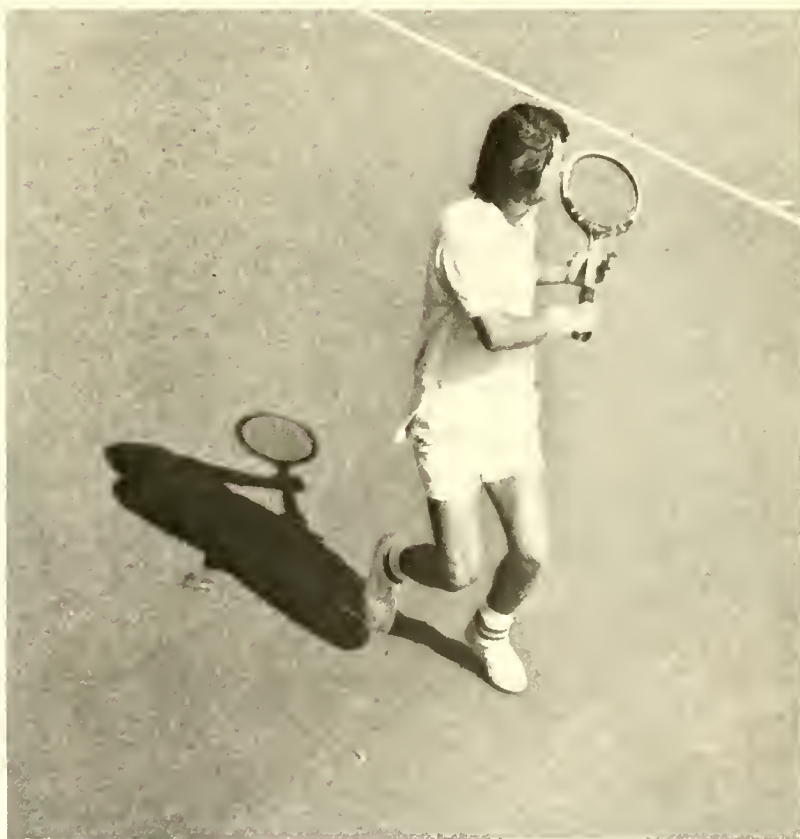

The schedule was peppered with heavily scholarshiped squads such as Toledo, Erskine, Emory and Appalachian State.

Wayne Allen and Bill Robinson handled the top two singles spots in promising fashion.

Wrestling

Coach Bob Setzer's wrestling team proved its 8-3 record in 1971 was no fluke as it duplicated that record this past winter.

The schedule was by far the toughest a WCU wrestling squad had ever faced which made the 8-3 mark even more impressive.

After opening the season with wins over Elon and North Carolina, Setzer's matmen lost a pair to powerful Appalachian State and Georgia. Next came a win over Maryville and a loss to the south's finest small college team, UT-Chattanooga.

Setzer's five freshmen starters then came of age as the Cat grapplers reeled off five straight wins, including a 32-3 rout of Tennessee.

In their last five wins, the Cats averaged scoring 37 points and four pins per match.

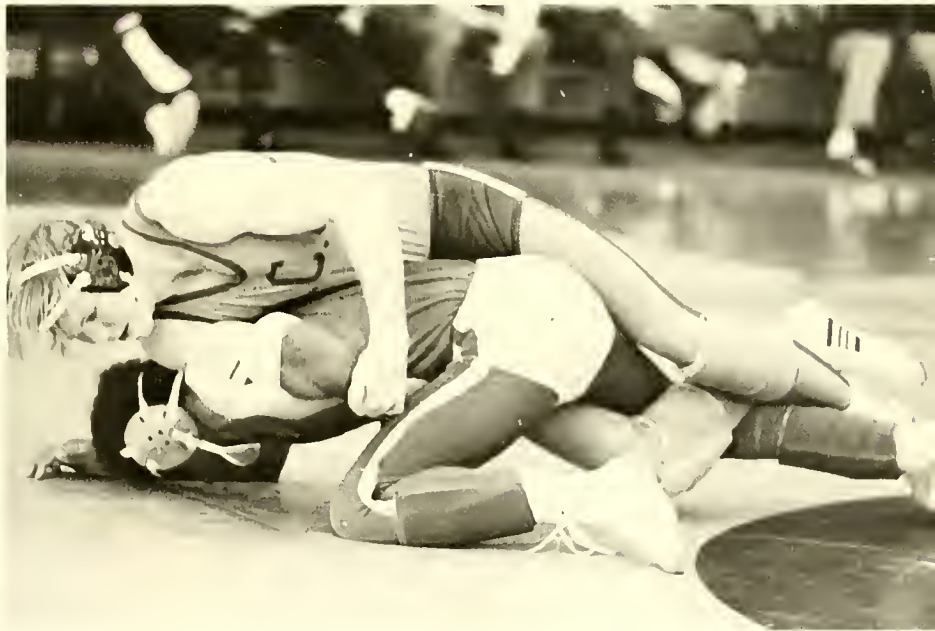

Doug Barrier turned his third great season with a perfect 11-0 record in the 177 pound class, running his overall three-year record to 25-2-1.

Other outstanding seasons were compiled by Jimmy Blair (8-2-1); Bo Russell (8-3); David Friedland (6-2); Terry Short (5-2-1); freshman John Simpson (8-3); Leigh Harris, another first year man (7-4); and Jerry Toy, also a frosh, (6-1-1).

Golf

After a year's absence, intercollegiate golf returned to the WCU sports scene.

Coach Don Dalton revived the program from scratch and watched his team improve with each match on the demanding schedule.

Thom Lane, Rego Jones, Tony Green and Sammy Nichols were the Cats' most consistent golfers during the regular season matches.

The squad peaked in the NAIA District 6 championship meet. After finding itself only one stroke off the leading pace at the turn, the WCU linksters ran into some trouble on the back nine, but still managed a surprising fourth place finish.

HOMECOMING “RIGHT-ON ’71”

“Right-On 71” was the theme of Western Carolina University’s 1971 Homecoming. Festivities included a pep rally called “The Cats Prowl”, a morning parade, crowning of the new Homecoming Queen, Miss Trudy Clubb, an exciting football game and a dance that night. Fraternities and organizations stayed up the night before preparing their displays which were judged. All in all “Right-On 71” was a big success!

Parade Highlights Morning Activities

A parade was held immediately preceding the game in which fraternities, sororities and organizations demonstrated their originality and spirit. Members of the Homecoming Court as well as fraternity sweethearts appeared in the parade. Highlighting and leading the parade was the Western Carolina University Marching Band.

Miss Becky Griffin, first runner-up, competes in evening gown competition.

The Miss Catamount Pageant is one of the biggest events at Western Carolina University. The pageant is held in February and this year had 28 contestants sponsored by campus organizations. There were two preliminary nights in which the girls competed in swimsuit, evening gown and talent. A special guest at this year's pageant was Miss North Carolina, Patsy Wood.

The final night consisted of an opening number with all contestants, naming of the ten semi-finalists, songs by Miss North Carolina, questioning of the five finalists and naming of the runners-up and Miss Catamount 1972.

Miss Susie Proffitt, second-runner-up, smiles as she appears before the judges in evening gown competition.

Miss Beryl Jones, fourth runner-up, twirls and dances to "Tijuana Taxi."

Yesterday:
A student's life

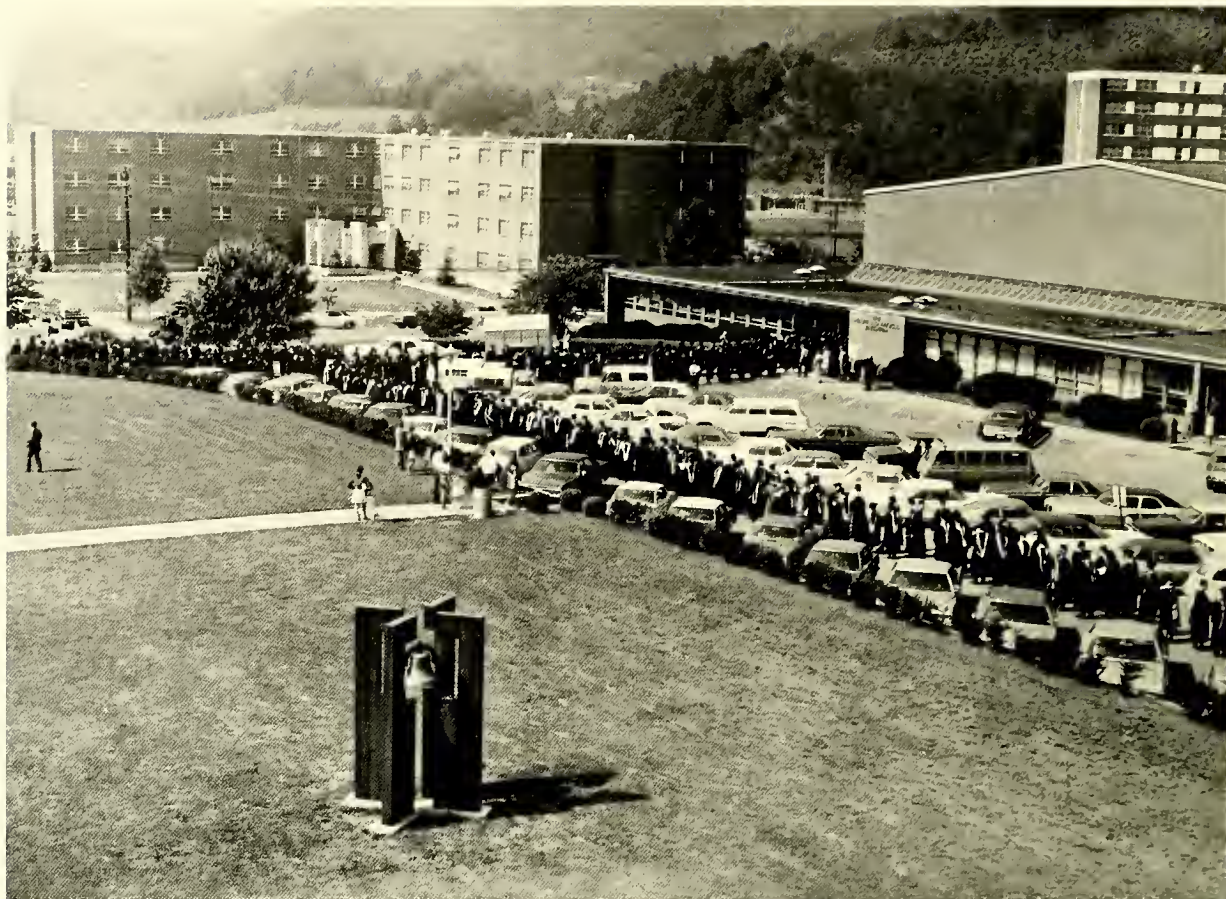

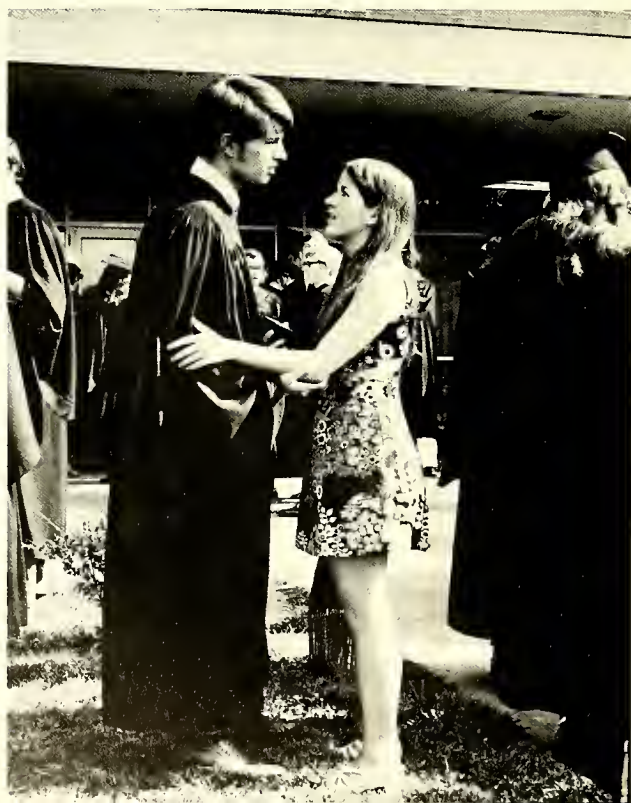

This is it!

And remember:
Class of 1972

Western Carolina University 1972

With the help of many hard-working people the 1972 Catamount is now yours. It was a long, hard road that required patience, endurance, and cooperation. For their hard work I would like to thank the people who stuck with it throughout the year: Phyllis Snider, Kristen Webster, Perry Crutchfield, Roselynn Hopkins, and Patsy Ray. My special thanks go to my associate editors Victoria Casey, Mary Tate, and David Harb, and to my business manager Bert Higgins. To my chief photographer Paul Smith, thank you for everything. The book could not have been published without the pictures from James Carter, Mark Deaton, Steve Cook, and Dr. Quinn Constantz. Thank you Steve White and John Slater for your contributions. And to my friends who gave me encouragement, thank you for your trust in me. Last but not least, thank you Frank Arnette for being there when needed.
